

Dear ticket holder,

We hope this finds you well and safe. In light of the current COVID-19 crisis, we have postponed the CAS "Carmina Burana" performances, scheduled for Saturday, May 30, 2020 and Sunday, May 31, 2020, at the UW-Parkside Main Stage Theatre. The Choral Arts Society Board is committed to the health and safety of our staff, audiences, musicians, and the larger community. We fully support the efforts of public health officials to control the spread of COVID-19. We will continue to consult all guidelines made by local, state, or federal health officials when rescheduling further performances.

Tickets to "Carmina Burana" will be honored on the date of the rescheduled concert. If we are unable to reschedule, ticket holders may ease the financial burden placed on our organization by designating the value of the ticket as a tax-deductible donation, substitute their ticket for a future concert, or request a refund. Please contact us at admin@choralartsonline.org. Replacement dates for this concert and any future schedule updates will be communicated via email and on our website.

If you have any questions regarding this schedule change or any other concert-related matter, please contact us at admin@choralartsonline.org. Thank you for your patience, support, and understanding as we work to ensure good health for everyone involved in our programs and performances.

Sincerely,

The Choral Arts Society Board and Staff
